Terms of Business - (Crime)

INTRODUCTION

This document contains the standard terms of business and should be read in conjunction with the associated engagement letter(s) which will contain information about who will be working for you, the scope of work to be carried out and the basis of your fees. If there is any conflict between these terms and the engagement letter, the contents of the engagement letter will apply.

These terms of business cannot be varied without the written agreement of a Member.

Any reference in these terms to the "firm", "we", "us" or "our" means Lawson & Thompson Solicitors LLP and not to any individual member, partner or employee. The instructions you have given us create a contract for the provision of services to you. We have a duty to work for you with reasonable care and skill. Our advice and services are for your benefit only and may not be used or relied on by anyone else.

MANAGEMENT OF YOUR CASE

Our engagement letter will inform you of the fee earner dealing with your matter, together with the name of the person who has ultimate responsibility for the conduct of your case. If for any reason you are unable to contact the fee earner please feel free to speak with a member of our support staff who shall be pleased to take a message for you.

Your Responsibilities

In order that we are able to provide the level of service we strive to achieve, you must agree to the following:

- You will provide full and accurate instructions or information necessary for dealing with your case and we will rely on the information being true, correct and complete.
- You will provide all documentation or information when requested in a timely manner throughout the conduct of the case.
- You keep us informed about any significant changes in your circumstances.
- You will make all payments to us when requested, for money on account in respect of our invoices, including disbursements, VAT or other relevant payment.

Our Responsibilities and Service Standards

We are committed to providing an efficient, high quality and cost effective service having regard to the requirements of your individual needs. In order to do this it is important that we agree in advance the nature of our relationship. This will include:

- Acting in your best interests at all times of the retainer, subject to the law and our professional obligations.
- Explanations and the provision of appropriate advice in relation to the aspects of the legal work we have been instructed to undertake, including relevant changes in the law.
- Communication of costs updates at relevant stages of the matter.
- Advice as to the likely timescale we expect the various stages of the transaction to take.
- Regular communication and updates at relevant stages of the matter. Please note however that it is our policy to treat postal communications, faxes and emails in the same way and these are normally processed on a priority basis and according to the date and time of receipt. It is our aim to respond to you as quickly as possible but, as you will appreciate, volumes of incoming correspondence do fluctuate and this can occasionally cause a delay in response.

Hours of Business

Our normal office hours are from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm Monday to Friday. In certain circumstances, and where a client may have difficulty attending at one of our offices, home visits can be arranged. On occasions, work may need to be carried out other than during usual office hours and appointments outside of those hours may be available.

Confidentiality, Privacy Notice & Data Protection

We are registered as a Data Controller with the Information Commissioner (ICO) - registration number ZA167004. The types of personal data that we process are listed under our registration records. All information that we hold concerning you as an individual will be held and processed by us strictly in accordance with the provisions of the Data Protection Regulations. You may raise any query that you have with regard to your confidentiality, privacy and data protection with our Data Protection Officer, Graham Crouth, at the address noted above. You can access our Privacy Policy on our website: <https://www.qualitysolicitors.com/lawsonandthompson/privacy>

You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the ICO in the event that you believe we have mishandled your personal data. Please see the ICO's website for details of their complaints handling process. <https://ico.org.uk/for-the-public/>.

We keep information passed to us confidential and respect your right to privacy. We will keep your personal information confidential except to the extent that it is necessary to disclose it by law or to comply with a regulatory or legal process or where we need to process the information to provide a product or service that you have requested. We have procedures designed to ensure that personal data is used only by appropriately authorised and trained personnel and to safeguard such information against accidental loss or unauthorised disclosure.

If you are an individual, you have a right under the Data Protection Regulations to obtain the personal data that we hold on you. Should you have any queries concerning this right, please contact our Data Protection Officer. We will comply with your access rights without delay and within a month in any event. Providing you with access to the personal data we hold about you is free of charge although we may charge or refuse a request if it is deemed to be manifestly unfounded or excessive. If we refuse a request, we will tell you why and how you may complain about our decision.

We will retain your personal data for a period in accordance with Law Society guidance and relevant legislation. If on your authority we are working with other professional advisers or lawyers, we will assume that we may disclose any relevant aspect of your matter to them.

Use of your information outside the European Union: In order to provide you with requested products and services we may need to transfer your personal information to service partners based in countries outside the European Economic Area (EEA). This does not diminish your rights and the Firm will take all reasonable steps necessary to ensure that any personal information transferred outside the EEA will be treated securely and in accordance with our Privacy Policy.

Where we act for you and your lender we have a duty to fully reveal to your lender or HM Revenue and Customs all relevant facts about your purchase, your mortgage and what makes up the purchase price. Your continuing instructions amount to your consent to us to disclose all relevant information to your lender and to HM Revenue and Customs. This includes any difference between your mortgage application and information you or we receive during the transaction including any cash back payments or discount schemes or other incentives that the seller is providing or allowing or giving to you.

You must disclose all information which may affect your liability for stamp duty land tax or other stamp duty (duty) as we can then ensure you pay the correct duty. If you fail to disclose all information (and if in doubt please disclose it as it can be discounted if it is not relevant) you must accept full liability for any penalties or action or other proceedings that any authority may take against you for failing to disclose information which resulted in a duty or greater liability to pay such duty.

Where you provide us with fax or computer network addresses for sending material to, we will assume, unless you tell us otherwise, that your arrangements are sufficiently secure and confidential to protect your interests.

The Internet is not secure and there are risks if you send sensitive information in this manner or you ask us to do so. Data we send by email is not routinely encrypted, so please tell us if you do not want us to use email as a form of communication with you or if you require data to be encrypted.

We will take reasonable steps to protect the integrity of our computer systems by screening for viruses on email sent or received. We expect you to do the same for your computer systems.

The Firm may become subject to periodic checks by Law Society approved Consultants and/or Assessors. This could mean that your file is selected for checking, in which case we would need your consent for the checking to occur. All such checks are conducted by individuals who have provided the Firm with a Confidentiality Agreement. We will ask you at the outset of your case or when necessary whilst holding your personal information for your consent to disclose your file for checking. If you do not want us to make your file available for checking you must notify us and we will mark your file accordingly. If you refuse to give us consent to checks, your refusal will not affect the way your case is handled in anyway.

We may correspond with you by email unless you advise us in writing that you do not wish us to do so. You acknowledge that email may not be secure. Email will be treated as written correspondence and we are entitled to assume that the purported sender of an email is the actual sender and that any express or implied approval or authority referred to in an email has been validly given. You consent to us monitoring and reading any email correspondence travelling between you and any mail recipient at the Firm.

We will aim to communicate with you by such method as you request. More often than not this will be in writing, but may be by telephone if it is appropriate. We may need to virus check disks or e-mails, but unless you withdraw consent we may communicate with others when appropriate by e-mail or fax but we cannot be responsible for the security of correspondence and documents sent by e-mail or fax.

Conflicts

Under legal and professional rules we may have to stop acting for you if there is a conflict between your interests and those of another client, or between our interests and your interests. Subject to compliance with the professional rules that regulate our conduct as lawyers, we cannot be prevented or restricted by reason of our relationship with you from advising other clients, including clients whose interests might now or in the future be contrary to your own.

FUNDING YOUR CASE

At the outset of a matter we will agree the basis on which we will charge you, and our engagement letter will set out arrangements concerning our fees and expenses. If we think you are eligible for public funding or Legal Aid we will advise you immediately.

QualitySolicitors Lawson & Thompson

Further details concerning the scope and requirements are detailed below:

Police Station Advice

Advice received whilst you are detained at the police station is funded by Legal Aid. If you are the subject of a DWP interview your eligibility for legal aid will be means tested.

Magistrates' Court Funding

For magistrates court hearings you will need to apply for a Representation Order, which we can assist you with. The application form is in two parts; you must give good reason why you require legal representation (the Interest of Justice test) and this will need to be accompanied by information regarding your income and expenses (the Means test) and it is important that you immediately provide us with this information, without which the court will not consider your application. The Court will use this form to decide whether or not you should pay your own legal fees. If your application for legal aid in the Magistrates' Court and for any subsequent committal to the Crown Court (e.g. for sentence) has been refused, you will have to pay our legal fees and any expenses arising at our current hourly charging (see below)..

For proceedings commenced on or after 1 October 2012; if you are ineligible for legal aid in the magistrates' court due to either your means or the case fails the interests of justice tests, and you instruct us on a private basis you will be entitled to recover your costs under a Defendant's Costs Order if you are acquitted. Please note however that the amount you recover may be less than you are liable to pay us as the costs recoverable will be limited to legal aid rates.

Crown Court Funding

If you had the benefit of legal aid at the Magistrates' Court and your case has been transferred to the Crown Court for sentence, your Representation Order will automatically be extended to cover our costs and the costs of any barrister instructed.

If you did not have the benefit of legal aid at the Magistrates' Court, we will apply for Legal Aid for you in the Crown Court. If this application is refused you will have to pay our legal fees and any expenses arising (see hourly rates).

You may have to pay towards the costs of your defence, depending on your financial circumstances. Any contribution towards the costs of your case may be from your income, while the case is ongoing, and possibly from any capital you have if you are subsequently convicted. If this is the case, you will receive a Contribution Order from the Court and you will have to make payments as set out under that Order.

You must tell us and the Court immediately about any changes to your financial circumstances during your case as this may affect the amount you have to pay towards your defence costs.

If your case goes to the Crown Court and you plead guilty or are found guilty the Crown Court can also order that you pay a contribution to your defence costs. You may have to pay towards your defence costs from any capital assets you may have although any payments already made from your income will be taken into account. You will be told at the end of your case if you have to make a payment from capital. However, the Crown Court does not have the power to do this if you plead guilty or are found guilty in the Magistrates' Court and the Magistrates then decide to send your case to the Crown Court for sentence. Similarly, there is no power to make you pay anything towards your defence costs if your case stays in the Magistrates' Court throughout. You will not have to pay towards the costs of your case if you are under 18 years of age when you make your application for Legal Aid or if you receive certain state benefits.

If you are found not guilty, any payments that you have made under a Contribution Order will be refunded to you together with interest. However, if your payments were late or you did not make the payments, as a result of which action was taken against you, the costs of this action will be deducted from the refund.

What is covered by Legal Aid?

This will include all work that is necessary to assist you with your case, although this will need to be justified at the time we claim our costs from the Legal Aid Agency (LAA). If there is unusual work that has to be done we can make an application for "authority", to incur the expense of that work. This permission may or may not be granted and is subject to prior approval by the Legal Aid Agency.

We are not allowed to bill part of our work to the LAA and part of it to you. Therefore if the LAA refuses to pay for work that you insist you want to be done on your case, then you would have to pay all of our fees privately from that stage onwards.

Prosecution Costs Orders Against You

If your case goes to Court and you plead guilty to an offence, or are found guilty of an offence at trial, the prosecution will usually make an application for a contribution towards the costs of bringing the prosecution against you. The amount that they will apply for can vary from £35, for a simple motoring case, to hundreds, or even thousands of pounds in a complicated case that goes to trial at the Crown Court. We will be able to advise you about the likely application for prosecution costs in your case.

The Court does not have to order payment of the full amount applied for. The Court has to take account of your ability to pay and also any fines or compensation orders the Court may impose on you.

Costs Order in Your Favour

If the prosecution cannot prove the case against you and you are acquitted or the case against you is dismissed, discharged or discontinued, you can apply to the Court for a 'Defendant's Costs Order'. Unfortunately, you can only claim for your legal, travel and subsistence expenses. You cannot claim for any loss of earnings or damage to your reputation or business for example. If you had the benefit of legal aid, you should not have any legal expenses to claim but the Court will pay the reasonable costs of getting to and from Court and subsistence whilst at Court but you must produce receipts for all such expenditure. If a Defendant's Costs Order is made in your case, the Court may send a cheque directly to you in payment. However, if there are sums that remain outstanding to this firm then we will obtain payment from the Court and account to you for any sum that you have paid to us in advance.

In respect of criminal proceedings commenced on or after the 1 October 2012, if you were eligible for legal aid and you decided to instruct us to represent you on a private basis, you will not be entitled to recover your legal costs in successfully defending these proceedings.

Private Fees

Any work we do for you that is not covered by Legal Aid funding,

QualitySolicitors Lawson & Thompson

you will be responsible for paying our fees for that work.

Our fees are calculated mainly by the time spent on the matter and can also take into account the speed in which we are asked to carry out the work and its complexity. Please note additional costs over and above quoted hourly rates may be applicable for work undertaken outside normal office hours, or required to be carried out at short notice. The charges are broken down into units of 6 minutes with routine written communications and telephone calls charged at 1 unit each. These charges do not include VAT, which will be added to the bill at the prevailing rate at the time of the invoice, as opposed to at the time of any quote or estimate. We keep a detailed record of this time. Our hourly charging rates are based upon the local guideline hourly rates for summary assessment issued by the courts. The rates are reviewed annually and may be increased at our discretion. However we will tell you of any changes to our hourly rates. In certain circumstances the fee earner with conduct of your case may, with the consent of their supervisor, agree a charging rate which differs from the rates disclosed below. If that is the case the revised rates will be confirmed in your letter of engagement.

Private Hourly Charging Rates:

- Lawyers with over 8 years experience: £201
- Lawyers with over 4 years experience: £177
- Other lawyers: £146
- Trainee lawyers/Paralegals /others £111

Timescale and costs estimates

It can be very difficult to give an estimate of costs at the start of a case but we will try to give you the best estimate that we can, with an indication of the likely timescale involved, in our engagement letter. We will always advise you if the estimate we have given you is close to being exceeded and will inform you at least every six months of the amount of costs and disbursements that have built up in your case.

Any estimated charges are based on the work which we have been instructed to undertake on your behalf. If you ask us to undertake further work, additional charges will apply commensurate with the additional work to be carried out. We shall endeavour to provide an estimate of any additional charges at the appropriate time. If you wish, we can set an upper limit on the costs which you may incur, which we shall not exceed without contacting you. You must specifically advise us of this, if this is what you require.

You remain responsible for our charges, even if a third party has agreed to pay your legal costs and regardless of any Costs Order made by a Court.

Should this matter not be carried through to completion, then a charge will be made in respect of the work which has been carried out in accordance with the applicable hourly rate. VAT is payable on that amount and you will also be billed for any disbursements or expenses incurred.

Fixed Fee

In some simple cases, it may be possible to negotiate a fixed fee. This means that we will quote you a fee for the conduct of the case and we will not be able to charge you more than that amount without your agreement. If we agree to this, we will set out in writing both the fee and exactly what we will do for that fee. This sort of arrangement is only suitable for simple cases, such as those involving representation at Court for only one hearing.

Expenses

We will charge you for any expenses (known as disbursements) that we incur on your behalf. VAT is payable on certain expenses. We will always try to provide you with an estimated cost of any expenses before they are incurred. These may include; a Barristers fee, experts or agents charges or travel expenses etc. We also charge for the cost of international telephone calls. Postage charges which arise during the normal conduct of your case for routine letters to you and third parties are included in our hourly rate. However we may charge separately for items sent abroad, those sent by special delivery or for larger items (e.g. packages or parcels). We may also charge you for photocopying, scanning and creating certain documents at a rate of £0.20 for each black and white page and £0.50 per copy for colour, or at cost price if outsourced. Other than nominal expenses, we will request you to place us in funds before any disbursements are incurred.

Payments on account

If you are going to pay us privately, we will probably ask you for a 'payment on account' (i.e. payment up front). Money paid in advance will be credited to our client account and will be applied to pay disbursements, as they are incurred, and for payment towards our bills. We will not ask for a payment on account that is larger than the estimate of the total costs of your case. We may also send you interim bills during the case for the work that we have carried out on your behalf.

Methods of payment

Payment can be by way of cheque or cash (cash payments limited to £1,000). We are also able to offer the facility for payment by debit or credit card. There is no fee payable if payment is by either card.

If you give us a cheque which is not honoured by your bank, we will charge you an administration fee of £25. We also have the legal right to keep any of your papers or documents in our possession until our bill has been paid in full.

In the event that requests for payments on account are not met or an interim or final invoice remains outstanding, you will be charged interest on the amount due at the rate payable on judgement debts, from the date of the bill until payment of the sum due. Interest will be chargeable on a daily basis on any bills that are not paid within 28 days.

Timescale and estimates

It is not always possible to tell at the outset how long a matter will take and what the overall cost is likely to be. If this is the case we will explain the reasons for this and give as much information as we are able, with regular updates as the matter progresses.

Client Satisfaction

We are committed to providing high quality legal advice and client care. If you are unhappy about any aspect of the service you have received or about the bill, please take advantage of our review procedure and refer the matter to the fee earner. Their first step will be to fully discuss with you the matter which is troubling you or causing you concern. He or she will attempt to deal with your concerns and provide you with a full explanation of the position within an agreed timescale. We hope you never have to make use of our review procedure but please be aware of its existence as it is intended to be of assistance to you and is an important part of our service.

If you remain unhappy, please contact our designated complaints person, Graham Crouth, at our Bedlington office. He is responsible for dealing with complaints and will be happy to discuss the matter with you. At any stage you may request a copy of our Complaints Procedure. We will investigate your complaint promptly and carefully and do what we reasonably can to resolve the difficulties. In the unusual event that we are unable to resolve the matter to your satisfaction you may take the matter up with the Legal Ombudsman.

The Legal Ombudsman expects complaints to be made to them within one year of the date of the act or omission about which you are concerned or within one year of you realising there was a concern. You must also refer your concerns to the Legal Ombudsman within six months of our final decision to you. If your complaint does not meet all of these time limits LeO may not be able to investigate it.

The contact details for the Legal Ombudsman are:-

Address: PO Box 6167, Slough, SL1 0EH

Tel No: 0300 555 0333

Website: www.legalombudsman.org.uk

Email: enquiries@legalombudsman.org.uk

Some clients may not have the right to complain to the Legal Ombudsman, for example:

- most businesses (unless they are defined as micro enterprises)
- charities or clubs with an annual income of more than £1m, or
- trustees of a trust with asset value of more than £1m

Further details concerning who is entitled to complain appear in our complaints handling procedure and on the Legal Ombudsman website.

Where you believe that an invoice has been issued that is either unfair or incorrect you are entitled to make a complaint. We will always seek to rectify such an issue to your reasonable satisfaction. Where this cannot be achieved you may be entitled to object to the invoice by making a complaint to the Legal Ombudsman and/or by applying to the Court for an assessment of the bill under Part III of the Solicitors Act 1974. However, if all or part of the bill remains unpaid the firm may be entitled to charge interest.

ANTI MONEY LAUNDERING

The Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 and the Money Laundering Regulations 2017, which aim to prevent money laundering and counter-terrorist financing, require us to conduct customer due diligence (CDD) when we act in connection with certain types of financial business. Where appropriate we will request all necessary information about your financial status, the nature and purpose of the transaction and the source of funds to be used. We will advise you in our engagement letter if we need to see and retain a photocopy of your Passport, a Photo Driving Licence, National Identity Card (or similar document) as evidence of your identity together with a recent utility or council tax bill (or similar type of document) as additional evidence of your address. Only original documents are acceptable and where these are not available we will discuss with you alternative methods of certification.

In certain circumstances external agencies may be used to assist with CDD and you may be charged the expenses associated with such checks, although we will notify you if that is the case.

We are obliged by law to report to the National Crime Agency (NCA) any evidence or suspicion of money laundering or involvement in the proceeds of a crime in relation to your instructions. The law prohibits us from notifying you that a report has been made and we may be prevented from continuing with the transaction until permission has been obtained from NCA.

Unless special arrangements have been agreed with us in writing and subject always to our absolute discretion, our Money Laundering policy states that we will not accept cash payments to the value of more than £1,000 in full or partial settlement of our invoices or accept cash payments in excess of £1,000 into our client account.

PAPERS HELD BY US

When a matter has been completed and all fees paid, we will return to you, at your request, any documents you have provided in connection with that matter and any other papers to which you are entitled. We cannot promise to retain files for a specific period of time, but will generally keep them for at least six years, and reserve the right to dispose of them after that time.

We may be required to disclose documents or to give information orally or in writing about a matter or your affairs, under a court order, notice or demand served by a body or person with the authority to make us do so. If any documents or information are subject to legal professional privilege (and thus confidential), we will let you know and tell you that you have the opportunity to waive privilege. If you decide not to waive privilege and this is challenged, you must pay us the costs we incur in preserving privilege for you.

We retain all copyright in relation to any documents produced by us whilst acting on your behalf, unless otherwise agreed. If a third party has prepared documents for you on our instructions, and you own the copyright in or have a licence to use these documents, we may store the documents in any format for future reference by our lawyers.

Original documents such as Wills and Deeds may be deposited with us for safekeeping. We do not usually make a charge for this service. We will not destroy or release those documents without your express authority.

We will not charge for retrieving papers or documents from storage in relation to continuing or new instructions for us to act on your behalf, however, in other circumstances we may make a charge based on time spent producing stored papers or documents to you or to another at your request. We may also charge for reviewing papers in order to comply with your instructions on storage or for other purposes.

LIMITED LIABILITY

In accordance with the SRA Indemnity Rules we maintain professional indemnity insurance with Qualifying Insurers. Details of our insurers and the scope of cover can be obtained from our main office (see above).

Our liability to you for breach of your instructions shall be limited to £3,000,000.00, unless we expressly state a higher amount in the letter accompanying these terms of business.

QualitySolicitors Lawson & Thompson

There is no contract between you and any individual member, employee or consultant of the firm. Any advice given to you, or any other work done for you, by one of members, employees or consultants is given or done by that person on our behalf and not in his or her individual capacity. No such person assumes any personal responsibility to you for the advice or work.

You agree that if, as a matter of law, any of our members, employees or consultants would otherwise owe you a duty of care that duty is excluded from our contract with you. You agree that you will not bring any claim against any individual member, employee or consultants for any matter arising from the services provided to you. Accordingly, any claim you wish to make can only be made against Lawson & Thompson Solicitors LLP.

You also agree that in the services we will provide to you, including in particular those described in any engagement letter we send you at the start of a matter, our total liability at law to you for losses will not exceed any amount stated above or referred to in the engagement letter. Also excluded is any consequential or indirect loss, whether or not it might have been foreseeable at the start of the matter.

If we are acting for more than one person, the limit of liability will have to be allocated among you. If the engagement letter does not expressly set out each person's share, that allocation will be a matter entirely for you. If for whatever reason you do not agree on an allocation, then you agree not to dispute the limit of liability on the grounds that no such allocation was agreed.

Our liability to you will also be limited to that proportion of the loss or damage (including interest and costs) that you have suffered and that a court has ordered against us after taking account of how far any other person responsible or liable to you for the loss or damage has contributed to it. In assessing anyone else's contribution, we will ignore any limit imposed on their liability by any agreement made before the loss or damage occurred.

The limitations and exclusions on liability in this section will not apply to any liability for death or personal injury caused by our negligence or for any other liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited

TERMINATION OF INSTRUCTIONS

You may terminate this agreement and your instruction to us in writing at any time. You will be responsible for any fees and expenses arising from our ceasing to act for you or the transfer of the work to another adviser of your choice. We may keep all your papers and documents while there is still money owed to us for fees and expenses.

Once instructed, we will normally continue to act for you until the matter is concluded. If circumstances arise where it is appropriate for us to end this agreement, we will do so only where reasonable written notice is given and for good reason. You will be responsible for our fees and expenses up to the date your instructions end.

The Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013:

If you are a private paying client and we have not met you in person (because, for example, instructions and signing of the contract documentation is taking place by telephone/mail, email or online, which is known as a "distance" contract) or we have taken instructions and a contract has been concluded away from our business premises (because, for example, we have met with you at home, hospital or police station, which is an "off premises" contract), you have the right to cancel this contract within 14 calendar days of entering into the contract, without giving any reason. The cancellation period will expire after 14 calendar days from the day of the conclusion of the contract.

To exercise your right to cancel, you must inform us of your decision to cancel this contract by a clear statement (e.g. a letter sent by post, fax or email). To meet the cancellation deadline, you must send your communication concerning your exercise of the right to cancel before the cancellation period has expired.

Should you require the work to be commenced within the 14 calendar day cancellation period, you must provide your agreement to that in writing, by email, post or fax. Unless you do so we will not be able to commence work until after the period has expired. However by signing and returning the accompanying CLIENT DECLARATION and/or our terms and conditions of business and/or our engagement letter you are providing your agreement in writing to enable us to commence work within the 14 calendar day cancellation period. Where you have provided your consent for work to commence within the 14 calendar day cancellation period and you later exercise your right to cancel, you will be liable for any costs, VAT and disbursements incurred up to the point of cancellation. If the service has been provided within the cancellation period, you will lose your right to cancel the contract.

CLIENT MONEY, INTEREST AND ACCOUNTING TO YOU.

In the course of dealing with a client's affairs, we will hold money on a client's behalf, received from either you or a third party (perhaps a Bank or Building Society). For our clients' protection all client money is kept in a client account that is separate from the firm's own monies. Occasionally and at our discretion those monies may be held in separate designated deposit accounts.

Any account we utilise will comply with the requirements under the SRA Accounts Rules (SAR). Currently we deposit moneys at our discretion with Barclays Bank PLC, We do not deposit monies with any bank registered offshore.

In the event of any bank with which we deposit money failing to repay money it holds this firm will not be liable for that loss. However you may be protected under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) subject to its limits (currently £85,000 for each person). The FSCS limit applies to the individual client, and so if a client holds other personal monies in the same bank as this firm the limit applies to all funds held in the client name. Please be aware that some institutions have several brands, (i.e. where the same institution is trading under different names.) You should check either with your bank, the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) or a financial adviser for more information.

When considering whether to pay interest on funds we hold on your behalf we have adopted a policy which ensures you are treated fairly and in accordance with the SAR. Any money received from you or on your behalf will normally be held in our general client account. You agree that you will not be paid interest on the amount we hold unless the accumulated interest exceeds the sum of £50.00 (subject to certain conditions - details of which are available in our Client Money Policy, a copy is available on request). The rate of interest will not be a commercial rate of interest as the payable rates on solicitors' client accounts are generally low. The rate payable will be the Bank of England base rate, or the actual rate of interest on our general client account, whichever is the lower. If, and at our discretion, monies are paid in to a separate designated deposit account in your name, we will account to you for all interest accrued during the period retained.

Please note that from 6 April 2016 all banks and building societies will pay interest to us on our general client account, or on any deposit account we open in your name, 'gross'. This means they will not automatically take 20% in income tax from the interest earned on these accounts. Therefore when we pay interest to you this will also be paid 'gross'. Where you owe tax on interest you receive you be required to settle this directly with HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC). For more information, for example, what to do if you've more than £1,000 of interest, go to: www.gov.uk/hmrc/savingsallowance.

If we are holding any of your monies at the end of a matter we will send them to you. This will generally be by way of bank transfer or in the form of a cheque. If you do not present the cheque for clearing within six months of the date we send it to you, we will cancel the cheque. We will advise you of this in writing and arrange to re-issue. If a further six months elapses and the subsequent cheque has not been presented for clearing and we do not receive or are unable to obtain instructions from you on what to do with the monies; if the amount is £500 or less, we will consider whether it is appropriate to account the funds to a registered charity of our choice. In most cases we will seek an indemnity from the charity. If the amount is more than £500, we will discuss with the Solicitors Regulation Authority what to do with the monies.

DIVERSITY AND EQUALITY

Our firm is committed to promoting equality and diversity in all of its dealings with clients, third parties and employees. We have an Equality and Diversity Policy, a copy of which is available on request. If you have any specific requirements which may affect the way in which we provide our services to you please discuss these with us.

APPLICABLE LAW

Our relationship with you will be governed by English law and will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales. However, we may bring legal proceedings in any other jurisdiction, including the jurisdiction where you are domiciled or based, to recover fees or other sums payable to us

RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES

For the purpose of the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999, we agree that no term of this agreement with you is enforceable by a third party, except that the members, consultants and employees of the firm may enforce the limitations and exclusions in the section above headed: "LIMITED LIABILITY".

AGREEMENT

Subject to your rights under the Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013, your continuing instructions will amount to acceptance of these terms and conditions of business and the basis upon which we will act for you. Please note that you will be written to under separate cover in relation to our specific advice and the steps we will take in relation to your matter.
